TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

PROFESSOR G KEITH STILL

I instructed Professor Still in 2017 to provide an expert opinion and accompanying written report in relation to an action for damages for a client who was injured during the course of his employment as a security guard at a large music festival. The action was raised at Glasgow Sheriff Court.

Professor Still responded timeously to the letter of instruction and all requests for further information; attended a site visit with myself; and provided a detailed, well presented written report into the liability aspects of the client's claim. The thrust of Professor Still's opinion related to what safe crowd control measures the client's employers should have undertaken at and before the time of the client's accident.

Professor Still has an extremely detailed and knowledgeable level of expertise in his particular sphere of practice. His report was excellent, and the opinion therein was instrumental in the client's case settling in his favour prior to trial.

I would highly recommend Professor Still as an expert witness in crowd control cases.

Yours sincerely,

Peter Crooks
